Symbology, Inc. Provides Bar Code Inspection Equipment to Flexographic Trade School

Minneapolis – Symbology recently provided bar code inspection equipment designed by Inspection Systems, Inc. to the Flexographic Trade School in Ft. Mill, SC. The Compliance Pro Report™ High Speed Verification system has been installed on one of the school's flexo presses and will be used as part of the printing curriculum for students. Demand for accurate bar code printing and numbers -management is on the rise with increasingly complex warehouse and data delivery services. The Compliance -Pro Report™ model is the means to providing reliably scannable - conforming to international standards and - correctly numbered bar codes.

This system offers speed and 100% inspection at prices comparable to laboratory/desktop inspection units. These components can be installed on any rewind system, printing press, production line or print/apply machine, and offer the following capabilities:

- Inspects to ISO 15416 / ANSI x3.182 standards
- ISO 15426 compliant
- 600 scans per second
- Can archive data for reports or quality system logs
- Interfaces and shares data with existing software systems
- Real time trend charts
- Programmable output trigger events

The Flexographic Trade School has recently undergone a change in ownership, and enhancement of course offerings. The Flexographic Trade School (FTS) is a unique press-operator training, research and technology institute. For further information, visit their web site at www.weareflexo.com .
